

INHS Newsletter – February 2018

Dear INHS members,

This month's newsletter includes many new additions to the online library, as well as interesting events around the world. Our latest blog is written by Ruth Walshe from the University of Sussex on the subject of biophobia and bisexual erasure within the LGBTQI community.

INHS Conference

Please join us Tuesday, May 29 to Thursday, May 31 at the University of Ontario Institute of Technology in Oshawa, Ontario, Canada. Our Co-Chair, Barbara Perry, PhD, will be your host. Full details of the conference, including registration fees, a draft schedule, plenary speakers, and accommodation information can be found on our conference website: <http://sites.uoit.ca/inhs/>

There are five bursaries, each valued at CAD$1,000, for participants from under-resourced communities/regions. To apply, send a one-page letter to INHScconference@uoit.ca, indicating your contribution to the conference, demonstrated need, and importance of participation for you and/or your community. A committee of INHS Board members will review and award the bursaries.

The final call for papers has been extended to February 28th to allow us all a little more time to register and submit proposals for participation at the conference.
